

Me in a Rainforest

This is me in a rainforest. It is an endless sea of green. I see the plants all as green as green as can be. I can hear the wind rustling the leaves as it blows by. The trees are as tall as giants. I can see all the plants, some are as short as my knee. I can see the vines hanging; I would love to swing on those vines. I can hear the birds singing it is a beautiful sound. I can feel the lush leaves of the plants behind me. It is quite warm. I can feel the wet rotting leaves underfoot. If I look up, I can see a monkey swinging from vine to vine. Above me there is a carpet of green leaves.
