

Me in a Rainforest

I could hear birds chirping in the distance. The forest floor was covered in moss and nearby, a snake slithered slowly by. Not much light penetrated the canopy so it was quite dark at the bottom. Lizards scampered away from their predators and ferns dangled from their stems. I heard thunder not far from where I was and I saw huge storm clouds lining up in the dark sky. Rain would be coming soon. I hid under a large leaf just as the rain splashed down heavily. All the other animals ran for cover as well.

By Tim H.