

Me in a Rainforest

This is a picture of me in the Amazon Rainforest in South America. The Amazon is the largest rainforest in the world. In this photo I am trying to balance on a hard, round rock.

If I looked down then I would have seen a long, narrow, deep, blue river. If I looked up then I would have seen the rainforest canopy. The canopy consists of the tops of many, many, tall trees. I could hear water flowing, birds chirping, leaves rustling and animals calling. In this rainforest there were lots of animals that I could see.

I had a great time in the Amazon Rainforest and I hope I can come back again.

By Anthony