

My visit to the Amazon rainforest

The Amazon rainforest that I visited on a cool and calm day, was very interesting and the place was full of adventure. When I first entered the wonderful rainforest, I was greeted by birds. They were chirping delightfully, the water splashing down against the smooth rocks, frogs croaking and the monkeys were swinging from tree to tree excited to have a visitor.

As I ventured deeper into the amazing forest, I spotted something which made me dazzled by its fantastic appearance. It was a lake, with crystal clear waters swishing peacefully along the banks. It was surrounded by silver, sparking rocks and tall, green trees. The awesome lake was full of contented, free birds swooping down and up in the blue sky.

This extraordinary and quiet place was one of my favourite parts that I visited in the Amazon forest. There were many different other excellent things I would love to tell you about. For an example, I loved the chirping birds and the wonderful creature I had observed in the canopy. I was very happy to know that they were as free as the birds because I hate animal cruelty.

By Carol

